GRAFF presents SENTO, the contemporary faucet collection for the bathroom

■ GRAFF, the globally recognized producer of luxury faucets for the bathroom and the kitchen has now come up with a new contemporary faucet collection, Sento, designed by the Italian studio Angeletti Ruzza Design. The design of the Sento collection has involved the solution of numerous complex issues; first and foremost that of the lever, which had to be robust yet light to prevent its excessive weight. The sinuous lines allow the cartridge, positioned within the body, to perform all necessary functions without any need for the any additional nuts and grooves on the lever. The collection consists of 15 faucet elements and a full selection of matched accessories available in polished chrome, Steelnox, black and white finishes.
